

THE MAIL-IN GRAND TOURNAMENT XLIX!

ARENAMASTER'S NOTES: 18 April 2010

This is the newsletter for the forty-ninth Mail-In Grand Tournament. All regular Duellmasters arena newsletters will include a listing of the tournament participants from that arena--all the warriors that fought will have their tournament win-loss record posted for all to see. The class divisions for Grand Tournament XLIX were as follows:

DM 200, The Primus Tournament	– All Primus inducted warriors (as of the Spring 2010 ADM Freeze)
DM 201, The Contenders Tournament	– All Primus contenders (as of the Spring 2010 ADM Freeze)
DM 202, The Eligible Tournament	– All Primus qualified warriors
DM 203, The ADM Tournament	– All other ADM warriors
DM 204, The Freshmen Tournament	– All new ADM warriors and ADM Freshmen
DM 205, The Challengers Tournament	– DM warriors with 31+ fights as of the Tournament
DM 206, The Champions Tournament	– DM warriors with 21+ fights as of the Tournament
DM 207, The Adepts Tournament	– DM warriors with 11-20 fights as of the Tournament
DM 208, The Initiates Tournament	– DM warriors with 5-10 fights as of the Tournament
DM 209, The Apprentices Tournament	– DM warriors with 1-4 fights as of the Tournament
DM 210, The Rookies Tournament	– DM warriors with 0 fights as of the Tournament
DM 220, The Dead Challengers Tournament	– Dead DM warriors with 31+ fights as of the Tournament
DM 221, The Dead Champions Tournament	– Dead DM warriors with 21+ fights as of the Tournament
DM 222, The Dead Adepts Tournament	– Dead DM warriors with 11-20 fights as of the Tournament
DM 223, The Dead Initiates Tournament	– Dead DM warriors with 5-10 fights as of the Tournament
DM 224, The Dead Apprentices Tournament	– Dead DM warriors with 1-4 fights as of the Tournament

A grand total of 1400 warriors participated in Grand Tournament XLIX. This was an immense amount of strategy input, and every effort was made to ensure the accuracy of the strategies. Unfortunately, we cannot correct any possible turn input errors, nor can we rerun fights, give credit, or change learns due to possible errors.

Thanks to all of you for participating in this Grand Tournament. Your warrior's tournament record will not count toward his record in regular arena play. The warrior with the best overall record in each class is declared "The Tournament Champion," and may fight for free in regular arena play. In addition, the manager of each Tournament Champion for each tournament is awarded the Tournament Prize: They may create one new team by choosing five warriors from amongst twenty-five new teams! Further, each of these five warriors will be cloned five times, and they may choose the best warrior of those five to remain on the team. Please remember, you must use all prizes within six months of the tourney when they were won.

Warriors in the regular tournaments who were uneliminated at the end of the tenth round have earned "Tournament Victor" status, which will enable them to make one challenge per turn with increased priority by writing "TV" next to that challenge. Tournament Victor and Tournament Champion status are great honors, and their benefits will last until our next Mail-In tournament, or until six months have passed. All warriors who earned Tournament Champion or Tournament Victor status from Mail-in XLVIII longer have this status. All Victors and Champions will also receive a Certificate of Achievement.

Congratulations to the winners, and condolences to the dead. – The Gladiatorial Commission

TOURNAMENT SPY REPORT

Here we go, another tournament spy report. Without further ado, I'll get to it.

The tourney as seen from Primus, the top of the dueling ladder--

Although the tourney began, as usual, with round one (where else would it begin?), we will begin, as usual, with round nine. Let all the lesser competitors rise first thing in the morning, have their minute, and depart, all that. Not for us. On round nine, there were five fights, one involving a standby. Nine Primus gladiators still competing. That was on the way IN to the round. Coming out of it, only six are still in the running. Pshaw. Jack Daniels of Tricorus is the only undefeated contestant, and it may, or may not, be significant that he drew the standby on this round. Drat and Terminus had the longest fight at one hundred thirty minutes; Drat won, if you wanted to know.

Round ten, three fights. No standbys, so everyone had to put up or drop out. Zero defeated Jack Daniels in the longest fight (sixty-three minutes). Drat came close to that time at sixty minutes while losing to Furious Bear. Webbed Toes and Gumbo Jake had the shortest match, a mere three minutes. It may have seemed longer to them, eh? Webbed Toes was eliminated, but the other five are still struggling.

Round eleven, three fights again, but Furious Bear drew a standby--and defeated him, of course. The longest fight was Drat versus Zero, with Drat winning, a mere twenty-six minutes. Piffing, though it did result in Zero being eliminated. And Jack Daniels defeated Gumbo Jake, forcing him out of the tourney and maintaining the leading record at 10-1.

Round twelve, two fights only, and one with a standby. Drat defeated a Dangerous Criminal so fast that most of the fans missed it entirely. A tougher match was Furious Bear against Jack Daniels, one hundred seven minutes, with a victory for the Bear. This leaves all three gladiators in the contest, and all evenly standing at 10-2.

Round thirteen, down to two fights, no, we had two fights last round also. Okay, two fights anyway. The shortest match was Jack Daniels against a standby, which Jack won. In the other fight, Drat defeated and eliminated Furious Bear in a thirty-minute effort. The Bear is out, and Drat and Jack are now both 11-2. Next round settles this.

Round fourteen, the clincher, and not a short fight at all. Experienced fans brought lunches, books, beer, whatever is their choice for passing time. DRAT 48-1831 of 4-LETTER WORDS was viciously subdued by JACK DANIELS 51-3084 of WHY I DRINK in a unpopular 74 minute gruesome fight. I wouldn't say it was exactly unpopular, no vegetables were thrown from the stands, but the avid attention so much praised by arena officials was a bit thin. Still, we now have a duellmas-- a Champion for Primus in Jack Daniels of Tricorus. I don't know the manager, offhand, some other flunky is dealing with that file. But I congratulate Jack.

With regard to style, I note that both Jack and Drat were, and still are, aimed blows. This is no surprise. Also that aimed blows did the best--by a long way--in this level of the tourney.

Contenders! And what are they contending for? The chance to be ranked with the fully Primus tourney gladiators, of course. A modest goal, but their own.

So, what have the Contenders to show for round nine? It looks like ten fights, one standby, longest fight eight minutes between Splurge on Wax Lips and Neosphincter. What a pair, eh? Looking at the list of Contenders still contending, I see that only one, Huge Twirling Man, has an undefeated record at this point. Splurge on Wax Lips, A New Pony, Harv, Pipe Bomb, and Gabriel have a single loss, and those with two losses are too numerous to mention individually at this point. How numerous is "too numerous"? Seven. So we've got thirteen Contenders going into round ten.

Round ten, seven fights, one standby. Pipe Bomb got the standby and won, maintaining his good record. A fast fight, very few people noticed. Huge Twirling Man remained undefeated, eliminating No Salary Cap in the process and in four minutes. The longest fight was ten minutes, it takes the true Primus breed to draw them out beyond an hour. Whirling Word beat Scarlet Hag in ten minutes. Scarlet was eliminated, of course. I remember her from the old days, but I think she's changed managers since then. For the rest... they were just fights. A total of five Contenders were eliminated this round.

Round eleven, four fights, no standbys, and interested parties on and off the sands are getting tense. Whirling Word, mentioned above, eliminated Ultimate Fury in a mere three minutes. Splurge on Wax Lips pushed Gabriel out in two. Huge Twirling Man, a favorite up to this point, got his first loss from A New Pony!, in two minutes. A fast pony, apparently. And Harv handed Pipe Bomb a second loss in five minutes, the longest fight.

Round twelve, three fights, tightening the old belt here. Not that a belt is necessarily involved, I don't know where the metaphor came from. Ignore it. Splurge on Wax Lips eliminated Whirling Word in the longest fight of this round, six minutes. Huge Twirling Man had his revenge on A New Pony in three minutes, and Pipe Bomb turned the tables on Harv in two. Splurge and Huge are both 11-1, Pony, Harv, and Pipe are 10-2.

Round thirteen, an unlucky number for some, and there are three fights, one with a standby. That's Splurge, who defeated the Ambitious Guard with cold look. Huge eliminated Harv in ten minutes--the longest fight this round. Pony forced Pipe Bomb into retirement. That leaves Splurge on Wax Lips and Huge Twirling Man each with one loss, A New Pony with two.

Round fourteen, two fights, and Huge Twirling Man gets the standby this time. A New Pony defeated Splurge on Wax Lips, giving them both two losses. The next round *could* go by without an elimination, but not easily.

Round fifteen, two fights, and A New Pony has the standby. And wouldn't you know it, Splurge defeated Huge, so now all three have two losses each. But the following round *will* see somebody out of the running. The question is just... who?

Round sixteen, two fights, with Splurge getting the Ambitious Guard. Huge beat the Pony, which means the New Pony is out. Splurge on Wax Lips and Huge Twirling Man have two losses each, so the next round will be the clincher.

Round seventeen, one fight, the final one for this level of the tourney: SPLURGE ON WAX LIPS 18-6485 of STREET PIZZA bested HUGE TWIRLING MAN 24-4457 of DIABLO ALSO in a crowd pleasing 3 minute fight. Which makes Splurge On Wax Lips the Champion Contender, after a hard-fought campaign.

I note that both Huge and Splurge are aimed blows, and that, as with Primus, the aimed blows have dominated the tourney at this level.

So, Eligibles. Good men and women and golems edging up toward the Contenders. They had six fights in round nine, the longest a mere seven minutes. Reddi Whip of Shadow Grove and Samurai of Jade Mountain came out of this round undefeated. Three more have a single loss, and two have double losses, a total of seven, which means, obviously, four fights next round, and a standby. Let's take a look at that.

Round ten, four fights. R Is For Repugnant, who had one loss before, drew the standby and won. Samurai and Reddi Whip remain undefeated. Along with R, Fat Back also has one loss, and Mimosa has two. The other two were eliminated and we ignore them, they aren't even rated as tourney victors, at 7-3.

Round eleven, three fights. Fat Back drew the standby this time, winning. R Is For Repugnant eliminated Mimosa. Reddi Whip lost to Samurai. That leaves Samurai as the only undefeated gladiator at this level and this point. R, Reddi, and Fat each have a single loss.

Round twelve, two fights. Sasmurai handed Fat Back a second loss, and Reddi Whip did the same for R. Nobody is out, Samurai is undefeated, Reddi has one loss, R and Fat have two.

Round thirteen, two fights. Reddi Whip drew Samurai again, and lost again. R Is For Repugnant eliminated Fat Back. There may be a message in that, but our business here is not messages.

Round fourteen, two fights. Reddi Whip lucked out and drew the Userous Merchant, handily defeating him. Samurai gave R Is For Repugnant his third loss, forcing him out of the tournament. A note in passing to managers enrolling new recruits: Give a thought to what those names are going to sound like in a spy report! Some days I can barely stand to read 'em, much less repeat them.

Round fifteen, one fight, just Samurai and Reddi Whip, and they've met twice before. SAMURAI 75-3119 of GOLD STANDARD devastated REDDI WHIP 97-1636 of KILLING ME SOFTER in an action packed 3 minute mismatched fight. Not a surprise, is it? Sure, chance plays a part in these things, but so does experience, skill, and management. And, again, chance. Reddi Whip made a good fight to get this far, but Samurai made a better one to win. A salute to Samurai, undefeated Champion of the Eligibles.

In the question of style, I note that Samurai is an aimed blow, Reddi Whip a wall of steel.

ADM. The veterans. Not Primus Godlings, but not green kids, either. When the Isle goes to war, which I hope will not happen any time soon, it will be the veterans, the ones who fight "ADM," who make up the backbone of that army. So, at least, I believe.

On round nine of the ADM tourney, there are, gods, a lot of fights here! Eleven, I make it, with one standby. The longest fight is six minutes, nothing like a Primus match. Bad enough if you're in the middle of it, of course. Even six minutes can seem like a lifetime. Nobody undefeated, but three with a single loss, tourney victors already at 8-1: Screaming Eagle, White Thunder, and Flea Flicker. Ten with two losses, and I'm not going to list ten contestants at this or any level. Let's thin out the ranks a little.

Round ten, seven fights. Screaming Eagle drew the standby and aced it. Flea Flicker defeated Magic Johnson, eliminating the son of John. White Thunder took a second loss from Nyzeil Oglata. And for the rest, four fights, for winners and four eliminations. Nobody said this would be easy. Screaming Eagle and Flea Flicker lead with 9-1 records. There are six at 8-2, tourney victors at the least, but I don't feel like writing out six names. We'll wait till a few more get bumped. Nothing personal, I don't care which ones get bumped, but give me a smaller group and I can work with it.

Round eleven, four fights. Screaming Eagle eliminated Miss Teak. With a voice like that, I'm not surprised. White Thunder, who started out so well, was eliminated by Flea Flicker. Jumpinjack Flash ousted Half-Orc Captain--the Anti Orcish Defamation League will be on him for this, and Nyzeil Oglata eliminated Numbered Won. This gives us Jumpinjack and Nyzeil at 9-2, and Screaming and Flea at 10-1. Anybody else get the idea that it's going to be a contest between Screaming and Flea? Let's pursue it to the bitter end.

Round twelve, two fights. Oooh, tough! Screaming Eagle versus Flea Flicker, with a loss for the Screamer. And Nyzeil Oglata eliminated Jumpinjack Flash. The tension in the crowd, at least in that part of it that has wagered heavily, is so thick you could cut it with a scimitar. That's the weapon of choice for cutting tension.

Round thirteen, two fights, and this was the unlucky thirteen for Screaming Eagle, who was matched with Flea Flicker and LOST! Screaming Eagle is OUT of the contest. Nyzeil Oglata drew a standby and can now look forward with apprehension to the next round and the Flea Flicker.

Round fourteen, one fight, the finisher: NYZEIL OGLATA 17-6753 of PHILANTHROPISTS was devastated by FLEA FLICKER 97-3087 of BLOODY SUNDAYS in a 1 minute mismatched fight. Somehow I get the idea that Nyzeil didn't have much of a chance here. Maybe it was an off day.

Both finalists are aimed blows, and, as has been the case all along so far, the aimed blows have dominated the contest.

The Freshmen. Too damned fresh, some of them, but they're young, so they probably can't help it.

Round nine, nine fights and a standby. What a melee! At the end of it, we had Paul Wiedorfer of Zorpunt undefeated, five contestants at 8-1, and six at 7-2. You start with a big cast, it takes a long time to whittle it down.

Round ten, six fights. Paul remains undefeated and only Strategy and Candiru have held to a single loss. For the rest, six with two losses and three eliminated. Nobody said this would be easy, right?

Round eleven, down to five fights, with one standby. Ah, not five fights each against that one standby, so don't give me that look! Paul Wiedorfer picked up his first loss, against Brain Tumor, and he should count himself lucky a loss is all he got: Brain Tumor has killed twice in this tourney. Candiru got the standby, Strategy eliminated a Model Prisoner, so they both cling to their single loss. Concrete, Brain Tumor, and Warhead have two losses each, and three more were eliminated.

Round twelve, and we're down to three fights now. Candiru eliminated Warhead, Paul Wiedorfer ousted Concrete, and Brain Tumor handed Strategy his or its second loss. Candiru and Paul at 11-1, Brain and Strat at 10-2, and the others are out.

Round thirteen, moving fast, in two fights Candiru eliminated Brain Tumor and Paul Wiedorfer eliminated Strategy. So fast, we're down to just Candiru and Paul, both at 12-1-1.

Round fourteen, one fight, but it won't be the clincher unless somebody gets killed. CANDIRU 18-9624 of STREET PIZZA was bested by PAUL WIEDORFER 24-4876 of MEDAL OF HONOR J4 in a crowd pleasing 5 minute fight. Despite saying which, I find that the Commission considers that this WAS the final fight for the Freshmen. Damned if I know why, but it never does any good to argue with the Commission. Both finalists are aimed blows. Surprised, anybody?

Challengers--I can never keep these guys straight. Are they immortal or not? A quick look down at the end of this section of the file tells me that some died, which sounds like "not immortal," but what do I know? People don't tell me stuff like this, and it's all changed since I was on the sands. No way I'd go back now!

Okay, round nine, a lot of fights. Thirteen, I make it. Nobody undefeated. At 8-1 we have six Challengers: Load Master, Kinetix, Sif, Fat Pants, Null Regine, and Love. At 7-2 there are more, nine. I'm not going to list nine more names here, and they'll probably be eliminated quickly as it is.

Round ten, eight fights. Kinetix drew a standby and won. Four were eliminated, and some of the leaders picked up loss two. Sif lost to Null Regine. Love lost to Webbed Beaus. And Fat Pants lost to Touche' Turtle. Which leaves us with only Load Master, Kinetix, and Null Regine at one loss, and way too many yet at two: eight, I think.

Round eleven, six fights. Sif handed Load Master his second loss. Kinetix and Null Regine hung onto their lead at 10-1. At 9-2, still trying, are Load Master, Sif, Webbed Beaus, Prisoner R09, and Love. Seven total still in the running.

Round twelve, four fights. Sif was eliminated by Love. Kinetix lucked out and defeated a Persistent Beggar. Load Master handed Null Regine a second loss. And Webbed Beaus was eliminated by Prisoner R09. Kinetix is now the clear leader, the only contestant with a single loss. Four with two losses: Load master, Prisoner R09, Null Regine, and Love.

Round thirteen, three fights, narrowing the field slowly. Love eliminated Prisoner R09 in a philosophically significant match. Load Master sneered successfully at a Mordant Deserter. And Kinetix eliminated Null Regine. Kinetix is still the clear leader here.

Round fourteen, two fights. Love devastated an Osksi Noble, they have no talent for the softer emotions in Osksi. And Kinetix eliminated Load Master. Down to the two of them, Love and Kinetix, and the next round could be the finish of the Challengers.

Round fifteen, one fight, and unless Love is very lucky... ah, no. This is the final fight for the Challengers: LOVE 74-3919 of LORDS OF VIRTUE was devastated by KINETIX 82-30489 of SUPERIOR FORCES 706 in a 1 minute mismatched fight. What is this Kinetix that he should do so well, eh? NOT an aimed blow. That is apparently reserved for the higher levels. Both Kinetix and Love are lungers.

The file shows seven deaths among the Challengers, seven gladiators who will be mourned by managers, teammates, friends, family. One died in the first round, three in the second, and one not until round nine. Live by the sword, die by the sword.

Champions, the contest to find the Champion of Champions. Has a ring to it, doesn't it?

Round nine, eight fights, one involving a standby. You have to wonder sometimes why the standbys keep at it, they never win. Anyway, Mr. Gherkin of Transel, undefeated. Vento of Blackstone, one loss. Nine with two losses.

Round ten, six fights. Vento drew a standby and, of course, won, remaining second in the running. Mr. Gherkin remained first and undefeated. There were enough eliminations to bring the number still fighting down to manageable size: with two losses, Doomtail, Perfect Snotling, Woebringer, and Red-Hot Fryer.

Round eleven, three fights. Mr. Gherkin defeated Vento, thereby remaining undefeated himself and handing Vento a second loss. Woebringer ousted Doomtail, and Red-Hot Fryer did for the (less-than) Perfect Snotling.

Round twelve, and we're moving in on the conclusion at speed. Mr. Gherkin eliminated Woebringer, and Vento eliminated Red-Hot Fryer. Just like that, we're down to Gherkin at 12-0 and Vento at 10-2. Vento could still triumph, but nobody's betting on it.

Round thirteen, one fight, and, as most expected, the clincher: MR. GHERKIN 6-6385 of 071406AD devastated VENTO 84-5633 of LIFE AT VIKING in a action packed 1 minute mismatched fight. Vento put up a good fight, but got pickled. I note that Mr. Gherkin is an aimed blow, probably with a dazzling future ahead, and Vento is a striker.

Surprisingly, there was only one death in this tier, and that was early on. A salute to the departed Umbar Conn III of Veastian.

Adepts... some are more adept than others, but that's what the tourney's all about.

Adepts, round nine, nine fights. A determined group. At the end of round nine, two Adepts remain undefeated: Rampage and Buggles. Two more have a single loss each: Eighth Mate and Vodka Gimlet. And nine stand hopefully at 7-2. Maybe their hope of winning the tournament is low, but if they can hang on just a little longer, get eight wins, they'll at least have tourney victor status and a special challenge to use in regular dueling. You never know what might make the difference.

Round ten, still seven fights (one with a standby). If this was a regular spy report, seven fights wouldn't be too much to talk about, but with a lot of rounds yet to go, I'll have to pass on that. However, I note that undefeated Rampage was the one who drew the Convicted Thief, thus remaining undefeated. And undefeated Buggles ousted Kalli Elisabeth, retaining that impressive record as well. Eighth Mate defeated Vodka Gimlet, staying with a single loss while handing his closest competitor a second one. Sneaky! Two with no losses, one with a single loss, five with two.

Round eleven, and we should be having four fights here. Right, four fights. Buggles got his or her first loss from Perfect Drug. Rampage, overpowering Doctor Strange, kept his undefeated record. Eighth Mate eliminated Silver Cyborg, himself remaining 10-1. And Vodka Gimlet, defeating The Lion King, held steady at two losses along with Perfect Drug.

Which brings us to round twelve. Only three fights, one involving a standby. The competition is getting hot even as the gladiators get tired. Rampage subdued Perfect Drug, remaining undefeated himself while eliminating the Drug. This is probably good. Buggles defeated Eighth Mate, with Buggles holding at one loss, Eighth slipping to two. And Vodka Gimlet, at two losses, mosterized a Mordant Deserter.

Round thirteen, two fights. Eighth Mate finished off Vodka Gimlet, you know how those sailors can drink. And Rampage, STILL undefeated, gave Buggles a second loss.

Round fourteen, two fights. Eighth Mate got lucky and drew the standby. Rampage eliminated Buggles. So it's Rampage at 14-0 against Eighth Mate at 12-2. Who'd've thought it would come to this? The next round could finish things off for the Adepts.

And... it does not. Round fifteen, one fight: EIGHTH MATE 9-5437 of SEA DOGS devastated RAMPAGE 32-5076 of ANGELS OF PAIN in a 1 minute mismatched fight. The Eighth Mate is tougher than many expected.

Round sixteen, again one fight: EIGHTH MATE 9-5437 of SEA DOGS was bested by RAMPAGE 32-5076 of ANGELS OF PAIN in a action packed 1 minute master's fight. This time, Rampage was ready. A good try for Eighth Mate, but not quite good enough. Maybe next tourney. Possibly worthy note here, both Rampage and the Mate are lungers, and lungers did best at this level.

Only one Adept died in this tourney, Kalahari of Blackstone. He or she will be missed, I doubt not.

Initiates... so many! So young, too, and some will die. Or may have already died, now that I think about it. After all, there've been eight rounds of combat already.

But let's see what round nine has to show: only eleven fights! There was such a mob milling around before hand, I didn't realize how much elimination had already occurred. Okay, from those eleven fights, we have one undefeated Initiate: Bold Mr. Wasabi. Six with a single loss... do I want to list them? Sure, why not, they all have short names. Smithers, Smite, Maglor, Stargazer, Waelgaest, and Guillotine are all at 8-1, tourney victors even if they go no farther. And nine with two losses; them I will not list. Too many, and some have long names. I don't do long names if I can avoid it. Not a lot of elimination going on here.

Round ten, still eight fights. But there's been a bit of shuffling going on. Bold Mr. Wasabi lost to Wym Wildleaf. No more Bold Mr. Undefeated. As for the one-loss contestants, hmm. Smithers defeated Guillotine. Smite handed Maglor a second loss. Stargazer ousted Discount Debbie. Walegaest kicked Linear Button out of the running. Which leaves three fights between a total of six on the bubble, and three are out.

Round eleven, six fights, and big results. Smithers, Stargazer, Smite, Waelgaest, and Bold Mr. Wasabi are still at one loss. Pinky Swear has two, and everyone else is out. And what's more, Stargazer assassinated Gimon! Who, strangely enough, does not seem to be listed with the other dead at the end of this file. It's a mystery, but it isn't my myster. Smithers butchered a Mordant Deserter, but who cares about that?

Round twelve, with the numbers dropping fast. Only three fights. Nobody eliminated, but three hopefuls picked up their second losses this time: Walegaest, the bloody Stargazer, and Smithers, an equally deadly fighter.

Round thirteen, three fights again, no deaths, but two--our killers Smithers and Stargazer--are eliminated. Still, they're alive and they're tourney victors; it could be worse. Bold Mr. Wasabi stands at 12-1, with Smite, Pinky Swear, and Waelgaest at 11-2.

Round fourteen, two fights, and two go out. Waelgaest sent Pinky Swear to the showers (with instructions to wash his or her mouth with soap), and Bold Mr. Wasabi ousted Smite. Bold has one loss, Walegaest has two.

Round fifteen, one fight--you knew it would be that, didn't you? WAELGAEST 1-8422 of SWEORDMASTERS devastated BOLD MR. WASABI 2-5622 of 042909A in a action packed 2 minute mismatched fight. This evens the score between them 13-2 each, and the next fight decides it.

Round sixteen, to a conclusion. One fight: WAELGAEST 1-8422 of SWEORDMASTERS devastated BOLD MR. WASABI 2-5622 of 042909A in a 1 minute mismatched fight. From the turmoil in the stands, I would guess that many people expected better of Bold Mr. Wasabi. Still, he did what he could, and he may be back at the next tourney. Waelgaest is a striker, and Bold Mr. Wasabi an aimed blow. You will have noticed, perhaps, that aimed blows dominate the higher levels of the tourney. This is not a higher level, however. It takes the aimers a while to get going.

Six dead are listed at the end of the notes for the Initiates, but there may have been more. We raise a cup in their memories and move on.

Apprentices. Huh, who'd've thought there'd be so many young sprouts wanting to apprentice to the arena? Some days I think this is one of life's major mysteries, but other days I concede it may only be a minor one. Still, there are lots.

Round nine, I make it thirteen fights, two of them fatal. The Bunny God "murdered" Uncle Henry, and you have to wonder what may lie behind that, what hidden hates and fears. And Wyl Wildleaf "slaughtered" Renee. I hope not in the sense of "butchered," but who knows what might go on behind the scenes? There are those, after all, who believe you can ingest a lion's courage along with its heart. And, not to put too fine a point on it, Wyl Wildleaf is the only undefeated Apprentice fighting at this time. How did he get that way? How does he plan to maintain his position? There are nine contestants with a single loss (one with two kills, though!), and five with two losses.

Round ten, eight fights, I think, unless someone snuck one in when my back was turned. Doesn't look like any deaths this time. Wyl Wildleaf maintained his dominating position by defeating, ah, make that "vanquishing" Prisoner 485. Those with a single loss have been reduced to four in number: The Bunny God, Kobayashi, Ura Goner, and Salvage. With two losses there are eight Apprentices, too many to name at the moment.

Round eleven, more fights. Seven, it looks like. Wyl Wildleaf got his first loss from Scuttlebutt. Wyl is now "merely" 10-1, along with The Bunny God, Kobayashi, and Salvage. Five are still hanging on at 9-2: Ura Goner, Butte Pirate, Crusty Crustacean, Scuttlebutt, and Lima Bean Express.

Round twelve, and there must be fewer fights, I'm sure I saw some battered bods headed for the showers. Ah, yes, five fights. This is progress of a sort. Lima Bean Express drew a standby, easy work. Wyl Wildleaf and Kobayashi held on to the one-loss edge. The Bunny God, Ura Goner, Scuttlebutt, Lima Bean Express, and Salvage now stand at 10-2. "On the bubble," as the saying goes. Butte Pirate and Crusty Crustacean are out.

Round thirteen, and it was a harsh one. Kobayashi retained the one-loss advantage by giving Wyl Wildleaf a second loss. Not the gift Wyl was looking for, but there are days like that. The Bunny God lucked out with the Embezzling Bunny, er, Scribe, an easy win. Ura Goner eliminated Scuttlebutt, and Lima Bean Express ousted Salvage.

Round fourteen, and the numbers are dropping fast. Three fights. Ura Goner drew the standby this time and held steady at two losses. Wyl Wildleaf was eliminated by The Bunny God, and this after his bold and encouraging beginning! Life is like that, and nowhere more so than in the arena. And Kobayashi, defeating and ousting Lima Bean Express, maintained the lead at 13-1.

Round three, two fights, and some serious blood on the sands as Ura Goner "butchered" The Bunny God. Rabbit stew? Kobayashi drew a standby and should count himself lucky. It's Kobayashi at 14-1 and Ura Goner at 13-2-1. Tense.

Round sixteen, one fight: URA GONER 8-5214 of YOU PAY I SLAY devastated KOBAYASHI 22-6792 of SERPENTS HOLD in a 1 minute mismatched fight. This brings them even at 14-2, and the next round will settle it.

Round seventeen for the conclusion: URA GONER 8-5214 of YOU PAY I SLAY butchered KOBAYASHI 22-6792 of SERPENTS HOLD in a 1 minute gruesome mismatched fight. Ooooh, mean! Unnecessary, even, but some people get carried away, and with a name and team name like that, who's really surprised at Ura Goner? Will we see Kobayash at the next Dead Tourney? Come back in six months to find out! Both finalists here, in case you wondered, are strikers.

As to the dead, there were a lot of them. Sixteen on the list, and who knows what might be hidden? Well, maybe nothing. We had deaths at this level from the first round through the last one. Devastating for the unprepared managers. A salute to the dead, may they fare well wherever they have gone. Actually, there isn't anything wrong with being dead. Sure, you can't duel, but is this a problem? I don't miss it, myself.

Rookies! Ho, what a confused and inexperienced bunch these are. But willing. Gotta hand 'em that.

Round nine, twenty-one fights! Nobody undefeated, nobody with that much experience. Being undefeated isn't easy, you know. Five with a single loss: Norix, Kid Quick, Fabricius, Guile, and Whirligig. With two losses, gods, let me get a clerk to count 'em. Twenty-two on the bubble. That should mean a rapid reduction in numbers active, which is a blessing. Normally I look at the Rookies and say to myself, self, this is the last piece of work today. But there's the Fools' Tourney, too. Or the BADD tourney, or whatever you want to call it. So let's keep moving here.

Round ten, fourteen fights. I suppose I could've figured that out by counting how many contestants were left, but counting bores me. Kid Quick, Fabricius, and Guile are still at a single loss. And thirteen hopeful Rookies are hanging on with two losses. Lots of eliminations at 7-3, poor guys didn't make it to tourney victor status, and, of course, they'll never be rookies again. That isn't something you can be more than once.

Round eleven, only eight fights. This should have thinned the ranks quite a bit more. Let's see. Fabricius is in the lead at 10-1. Everybody else is at 9-2 or out. Nine of 'em on the bubble, and six are out.

Round twelve, should be five fights here. Right, five fights, one with a fatal outcome: WHIRLIGIG 82-48127 of SPINNING DEATH was butchered by DIRVISH 84-12621 of DRAGON'S GUARD V in a 1 minute one-sided contest. This is Dirvish's first kill of the tourney, but it bodes bloody. Nobody now has a mere one loss, all are on the bubble, or the edge, with two. "All," in this case, being six Rookies: Hemlock, Dirvish, Kid Quick, Fabricius, Gayle, and All Clad.

Round thirteen, three fights--obvious, when you consider there are six fighters, and it takes two to make a fight. Fabricius, who had the lead for a while, has fallen to Hemlock. All Clad got rid of Kid Quick. And (pay attention to this one, it will matter later on) Gayle eliminated Dirvish. Leaving three in the running. Or possibly the tiredly staggering.

Round fourteen, two fights. You knew that. Hemlock defeated and eliminated Gayle, while All Clad trounced a Mordant Deserter. Hemlock and All Clad, each of them at 12-2 (Hemlock has a kill), are the only Rookies still standing.

Round fifteen, the concluding fight, since both gladiators come into it with two losses: HEMLOCK 2-5654 of SERPENTS HOLD was bested by ALL CLAD 84-12800 of KITCHEN KILLERS in a 3 minute fight. All Clad is the Champion of the Rookies and is a wall of steel.

This was also a deadly level of the tourney. The files list thirty-seven dead. Poor guys. We salute them.

Eligible B.A.D.D. Huh. Probably all fools, one way or another. And unlucky, of course, or they wouldn't be HERE, in this BADD Tourney, whatever that means. I really don't understand why SOME who wash out of the regular tourney end up here and others don't, but then, I never asked, either.

Three entered this level--round six--at 3-2 each. Two fights, one with a standby. Ice Fox kicked Solsbury Hill back into the mass of losers, and Confusion demolished an Ambitious Guard.

Round seven, apparently the concluding round for this little contest, has only one fight: ICE FOX 5-3877 of OF WOLF AND MEN 4 devastated CONFUSION 58-4913 of FULL TILT in a action packed 1 minute brutal mismatched fight. This Ice Fox, a lunger, is one tough cookie. So's Confusion, an aimed blow, just not quite as tough, or maybe not as lucky, as Ice Fox. So congratulations to Ice Fox.

Apparently there are more ADM B.A.D.D. than Eligibles, which makes sense, I guess. Anyway, round six has three fights (one with a standby). Shotgun Gandhi, The Shocker, and Glitch (he had the standby) won this fight and continued on to face each other.

Round seven, two fights, with The Shocker drawing a standby and LOSING. What a Fool! And Shotgun Gandhi lost to Glitch, which makes Glitch the Champion ADM Fool. Glitch is a lunger--apparently lungers are dangerous when they're Bad! Shotgun Gandhi is a slasher, and The Shocker is an aimed blow.

B.A.D.D. Freshmen, a bit of a redundancy there. Four of 'em. Dirty Sanchez defeated Shocking, Centipede defeated Bart Simpson. The winners go on to round seven.

Round seven, one fight to decide this issue: CENTIPEDE 28-3980 of CLASSIC ARCADE was viciously subdued by DIRTY SANCHEZ 29-4802 of STREET WALKERS in a 2 minute bloody fight. Well, I have to say that if I encountered a centipede, I'd probably be vicious, too. Can't stand the things. Congratulations to Dirty Sanchez, a slasher, and a reluctantly respectful raspberry for Centipede, a wall of steel.

More B.A.D.D. warriors the farther we go: The Challengers put six on the sands. Three were immediately eliminated, of course--that's what round six is all about. Remaining for our consideration and further entertainment are Gangrene, Bulletproof Monk, and Spike.

Round seven, Bulletproof Monk drew a standby and won. Gangrene defeated Spike. So much for Spike.

Round eight, to a conclusion: BULLETPROOF MONK 11-4999 of LUROCIANS EXTREME was devastated by GANGRENE 82-30731 of THAT SPECIAL SMELL in a 1 minute fight. Congratulations for Gangrene. Gangrene is a lunger, Bulletproof Monk and aimed blow. Congratulations and a free drink (just one!) for a couple of Challenging Fools.

B.A.D.D. Champions, looks like there were three Champions who wouldn't quit. Round six, My Shadow defeated a standby and Divine Glimpse defeated Despair. Seems fitting.

Round seven, finishing quickly, we have: MY SHADOW 47-6649 of KAOS was unbelievably bested by DIVINE GLIMPSE 84-4796 of KAOS LORDS in a 4 minute master's fight. My Shadow was good, but the Glimpse was Divine. Sorry, couldn't resist that one. Divine Glimpse is a parry riposte, which is a bit of a surprise. My Shadow is a lunger.

B.A.D.D. Adepts, hmm. Are we missing a level or two here? Maybe not. Anyway, four Adepts refused to quit. Round six, The Voice Inside out-shouted Caustic Crocus, and Nolaj cocked a snook at Toothless Bastage. Well done, that.

Round seven, and that's all there'll be: THE VOICE INSIDE 3-6974 of STATE OF MIND was bested by NOLAJ 82-12527 of THE WILLBURY'S Q in a crowd pleasing 4 minute fight. Let that be a lesson and do NOT listen to the Voice Inside. It hasn't got a clue. Well, with a four-minute fight, the Voice probably did have a clue. Just not enough.

Initiates again, B.A.D.D. Initiates, and we have six of them. Nickoli Drybone ate up Gemelli of Pasta. Very tasty. Jasmine Sage defeated Little Mokele. And Bonnie Barrow did her number on Zoboiby.

Round seven, two fights. Jasmine Sage ousted Nickoli Drybone, and Bonnie Barrow trounced a standby.

Round eight, BONNIE BARROW 63-2798 of BAD GIRLS bested JASMINE SAGE 84-9903 of 071709AK in a crowd pleasing 2 minute fight. Unless... no, nothing hiding on the next page, okay. Bonnie Barrow wins this one and is the Champ. Bonnie's a lunger.

B.A.D.D. Apprentices, six of 'em. Jack Sparrow defeated Bo Valdesh. Josie Wales defeated Alex. And Commissaire P. defeated Poodlepoo. Piece of good luck, that last, I dunno if I could have talked about that Dog.

Round seven, Josie Wales dealt with an Embezzling Scribe, while Commissaire P. dismissed Jack Sparrow.

Round eight, JOSIE WALES 45-4620 of STREET WALKERS viciously subdued COMMISSAIRE P. 82-55944 of SACS DE SABLE 2 in a 4 minute fight. This Josie is obviously not someone you want to annoy! Josie's a lunger, hot-tempered and impetuous.

And the B.A.D.D. Rookies, who must be the most Foolish contestants, given that eight of them are competing here on round six. Gambit, Benign Pumpkin, King Kong, and Gwenyc won their fights and will proceed to attack each other.

Round seven, two fights. Gambit made Pumpkin pie (Benignly). Gwenyc defeated King Kong.

Round eight, GAMBIT 26-4826 of ZOMBIE SQUAD was bested by GWENYC 84-9349 of PHILATHROPISTS54 in a action packed 4 minute amateur's fight. Looks like the arena is not the place to be a zombie, Gambit. Congratulations to Gwenyc, a total parry.

That's all there is for this time. May your blades remain sharp – or at least sharper than your opponent's!

-- Olaf Modeen
